THE GOVERNORSHIP

Senator Mapp is being urged by many ladies and gentlemen to announce himself a candidate for Governor. Congressman Flood's friends want to see him enter the race, but it is certain that the friends of Flood both in the race Tucker will win the nomination. It is understood that the friends of Messrs. Flood and Mapp are about the matter, and an announcement is expected any day as to which one of the gentlemen will make the fight against Mr. Tucker. We are told by the best posted men who can beat Mr. Tucker for the nomination, and it is said the sentiment in his favor, but rather discouraging it. Should his friends prevail on him to enter the race, an old-time campaign will be waged over the State.

WOMEN ENFRANCHISED

The Legislature of Tennessee has ratified the 19th amendment to the Constitution of the U. S., which provides that "the right of citizens of the U. S. to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the U. S. or by any State on account of sex." The ratification has been certified to Washington, and our women now have the right to vote. A shame on the solons of Virginia that they failed to see the justice of the cause of our women and voted against the amendment. They will soon be on the wagon with the ladies. Now ladies, come on pay your $1.50 capitation tax and vote the Democratic ticket, the party which gave you the deciding vote enfranchising you.

Good Roads Must Come

If the State is enabled to issue bonds for road building, Virginia can have an adequate system of improved highways in five or six years, according to a statement made by State Highway Commissioner George F. Coleman. Under the present plan of road building through State appropriation and Federal aid, it will require fifteen or sixteen years to accomplish this, Mr. Coleman thinks. Mr. Coleman has pointed out in addresses made recently that it will be possible to raise as much as $40,000,000 by a State bond issue without increasing the tax rate. He estimates that the bonds can be retired in nineteen years and that this can be done without burdening the State financially.

An amendment of the State constitution to permit the commonwealth to issue bonds for road work will go to a vote of the people on November 2. Before that time, residents in the rural districts and towns, as well as in the cities, will have an opportunity to see what a great need exists in Virginia for good roads, through the exhibition of a live reel motion picture, "Virginia's New Hour," under the auspices of the Virginia Good Roads Association. This picture will be shown in school-houses and halls in every county in the State. Through it, every Virginian will be made familiar with the poor roads in the Old Dominion at the present time and will be shown the benefits which would result from an adequate highway system. V. D. L. Robinson, executive secretary of the association, is now preparing an itinerary for the picture that will give it the widest possible distribution.

Buckingham

A lady friend tells this joke: She said a local spinner was asked by some young girls why she never married, and she told them all to come to her room that night, which they did, and when the question was put to her again she said, "because I never had a chance."

James river was very high Friday and one of the bridges at Henrico was washed away, and the mails from Richmond have to come here by another route.

The farmers' picnic was pulled off on scheduled time here Saturday last.

The cutting of tobacco has begun and it has been injured to some extent by excess of rain.

I have just opened a new grocery catalog sent by a mail order house and they quote granulated sugar at 17c per hundred and say they can furnish any desired quantity.

Mr. Wesley Atwood lost a hog killed by lightning last week.

The melon crop was short to begin with, and the high water on low ground land played havoc with many patches.

The death of Mrs. Morner, which took place at Stuart Clinic Hospital, Richmond, was a great shock to her many friends in this county. She was before her marriage Miss Madeleine Jones. She was a very lovely character. She was a great favorite among her friends and family. She made friends wherever she went. Her sisters and brothers came from far distant homes in other States to be with her in her last illness.

Mr. Peyton Moss is spending his rest time at his old home here.

Miss Lucy A. Moss expects to resume her work at the high school at Abies Station, 80 miles from Richmond.

There was a select few at the Presbyterian church here Sunday. The bridge from North river kept some away, while others went to join the great throng at the big tabernacle. I was at both places for a while and heard some good preaching. Dinner was served on the tabernacle grounds for those who brought none with them. The price of the meal was 50 cents and they had had, fried chicken, Brunswick stew, and pie. A feature I never witnessed before was the singing of a hymn just before the meal and one of the ministers asked a blessing.

Mr. W. H. Childress came home from Lynchburg Saturday and says the harvest and devastation caused by the great storm was awful. Tyre river must have been high indeed to wash the big iron bridge away above Virginia.

Excess of heat, cold, rain, snow and dry weather all come, and we cannot prevent them, but we are allowed to prepare for these emergencies rather than to complain and say we never saw anything like it before.

Mrs. White has been very ill at the home of Miss Fannie White near this place; these people are new-comers here and are nice and refined people.

Evergreen

"Did you ever see so much rain?" is the most frequent speech one hears now. We will be delighted to see a good sunny day, but the rain has had a winter's work.

Mr. Marcellus Fitzgerald, who has been visiting relatives around here, will return to his home in Petersburg this week and will be in the city for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Browning, of Richmond, came up after their daughter, Lucile, who has been spending the summer with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lee, of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Parr, and Miss Mattie Farrar and Miss Madeline Lee attended the Woman's Missionary Society of the Lynchburg branch, which met at Wesleyan church, Gladys, Va. They report a fine meeting, and the Gladys people are noted for their hospitality. Although there was a downpour of rain, everyone was cheerful and had a good time.
